

PRESS RELEASE

GAS-ELEC ANNOUNCED AS FINALIST IN GREEN BUSINESS AWARDS 2009

Middlesex, 4 November 2009 – The g-save smart boiler economiser from gas-elec, a leader in the field of gas and electrical safety inspections, services, products and advice, is a finalist in the 2009 Green Business Awards 'Green Product' category.

In association with eaga, the Green Business Awards 2009 – the 'Green Globes' – uphold the most innovative, ambitious and effective initiatives by UK business for achieving environmental sustainability, and implementing smart business practice.

The 'Green Product' category focuses on product design and highlights like-for-like products that significantly improve the environmental profile and new products that help solve environmental problems.

The g-save is a tried-and-tested, patented product that uses 'smart' technology to optimise the operation of your central heating boiler, improving efficiency to greatly reduce gas consumption and lower your heating bills. It works on gas, oil or LPG-fuelled installations and can reduce heating bills by up to 31%.
