

PRESS RELEASE

SAVE YOUR BUSINESS UP TO 31% WITH NEW ENERGY-SAVING UNIT

Middlesex, 17 November 2009 – As winter fast approaches, why not start saving your business cash on your gas bills by installing the g-save smart boiler economiser.

The g-save is the winner of the Good Housekeeping Green Living Award 2009, as well as being shortlisted for the 'Products Category of the Green Business Awards 2009.

It is a tried-and-tested, patented product that uses 'smart' technology to optimise the operation of your central heating boiler, improving efficiency to greatly reduce gas consumption and lower your heating bills. The g-save works on gas, oil or LPG-fuelled installations and can reduce heating bills by up to 31%.

The g-save has two electronic timers that each pulse at different pre-set times – 24-hours a day, seven days a week. One timer is wired into the room thermostat whilst the other is wired into the hot water cylinder thermostat wiring. The unit pulses the demand for heat so that the latent heat in the system that is still moving around is used to full effect even when the boiler is not active, thus making substantial savings on gas usage.

Success stories
