

LETTER TO CUSTOMERS

---

26th January, 09

Dear Client,

IMPORTANT UPDATE

At gas-elec we try to keep you updated with changes to the market and legislation etc.

We therefore felt it of utmost importance that you are aware of changes to gas registration from April 1st 09.

From the 1st of April 2009 CORGI will no longer be responsible for administering gas safety requirements in the UK. The whole administration will be done by CAPITA and all gas works and all gas engineers in gas-elec, will be registered under the Gas Safe Register.

It will be a legal requirement for any engineer planning to undertake work in Great Britain after the 1st of April 2009 to be registered with Gas Safe Register™ gas-elec will continue to be registered as a group as it currently is with CORGI.

For further information visit our website on www.gas-elec.co.uk.

Yours sincerely,